C-Path CEO Romero Featured in Scientific American Feature

Scientific American recently featured C-Path CEO Klaus Romero, M.D., M.S., F.C.P. in its article “The Agenda Setters: Bringing Science to Life.”

The piece explores the concept of healthspan — the years of life lived free from serious disease — a topic gaining momentum both in the popular press and within the scientific community focused on longevity research.

We’re proud to see Dr. Romero’s leadership and perspective highlighted in this important conversation.

Read more here: Scientific American October 2025.