

Consortium Brings Together FDA, Industry to Release New Data Reporting Standard

Officials with the Clinical Data Interchange Standards Consortium (CDISC) and the Critical Path Institute (C-Path), two organizations strongly affiliated with the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA), have announced the release of a new “breakthrough tool” used to help combine and report data from multiple studies.