

2022 IDWeek, Washington D.C

Dates: October 19-23, 2022 Sessions run daily Oct. 19-23 with the closing plenary ending at 11 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 23.

IDWeek is the joint annual meeting of the Infectious Diseases Society of America (IDSA), Society for Healthcare Epidemiology of America (SHEA), the HIV Medicine Association (HIVMA), the Pediatric Infectious Diseases Society (PIDS), and the Society of Infectious Diseases Pharmacists (SIDP). At IDWeek you will see familiar colleagues and new faces. IDWeek is a forum for health professionals of varied backgrounds to collaborate, cooperate, and learn from each other's expertise. With so many common issues and challenges cutting across our four disciplines, IDWeek provides an opportunity to learn from each other's knowledge, experience and expertise, for the improvement of patient care and public health.
